ABSTRACT

In today's world the concept of "smart" is at its peak. In the field and platform of learning also this concept has taken its shape in the form of "smart classroom". Classroom organization is a major responsibility of the teacher. In organizing classroom the teacher must consider ways in which they can make students feel welcome, encourage involvement and allow for learning experience in a multitude of arrangement. The concept of smart classroom has emerged in the learning field aiming at changing the teaching and learning methods in the information age where everything is viewed from its technological perspective.
