Gender equality is at the very heart of human rights and United Nations values. A fundamental principle of the United Nations Charter adopted by world leaders in 1945 is "equal rights of men and women". This paper deals with Contemporary Trends in Women Human Rights Violation and Protection in India. It outlines the human rights framework for women, the movement for women's human rights, women's rights background and women human rights violation in India. This paper concludes with some interesting findings.
