

INDIA AND CHINA-RELATION, CURRENT AGREEMENTS AND STRENGTHS & WEAKNESS

✉ Ms. Shailja¹ & Ms. Vandana²

¹Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, G.V.M. Girls College, Sonipat, Haryana, India.

²Assistant Professor, G.V.M. Girls College, Sonipat, Haryana, India.

ABSTRACT

Today, India and China both are the fastest growing countries of the world. We all know that in the whole world China has best railway structure and now China is going for a huge railway track, that will link china to us through the Russ. It will be their big achievement. And if we talking about India, we have the largest young workforce to drive the world growth. The present Article is an attempt to identify major role of china in our economy. The present study is focused on relation between India and China and role of china of our economy. This paper also emphasis on those agreements and strength & weakness of India and China. This study is based on secondary data.

KEYWORDS: Workforce, Economic Influence, Economic Success, Productivity, Optimum Trade.